CALL FOR THE APPLICATION FOR PROJECT TEAM FOR B+NESDG

"Bhutan+Nepal Higher Education for accomplishing the Sustainable Development Goals (B+NESDG)" is a capacity building project, which involves universities from Spain, Greece, Latvia, Nepal and Bhutan, co-funded by the Erasmus+ Project of the European Union. The B+NESDG project has been developed with the aim of applying the principles of Sustainable Development in Nepal and Bhutan. Far Western University is one of the partner institutions of the project from Nepal.

The main objectives of the project is to integrate Sustainable Development Goals into Higher Education Institutions by using a quality-based, inclusive and equitable approach. It facilitates the accomplishment of relevant Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in the Far Western University.

The project consists of activities to be conducted by the students through joint approach of students from all partner institutions. Each group of students will be involved in their project/activities to provide solutions to local and global problems aligned with SDGs. Far Western University, Faculty of Engineering has 7 (at least 3 Female Students) reservations for the students in these projects.
